

Strong future for Premier Structural Services following merger

Anderton Structural Repair Services are pleased to announce their successful merger with Premier Structural Services, in a move that will further strengthen and enhance the services the company offers.

Darren Anderton, (above left) Managing Director of ASRS, told us "Premier Structural Services provide an ideal acquisition for ASRS. It is our intention to now provide our extensive national knowledge and experience of structural stabilisation techniques on a local level to Premier's existing client base and we very much look forward to meeting those client's requirements".

A combination of the Helifix System and Platipus ground anchors were specified to stabilise this retaining wall for Bristol City Council. The project was completed inside the 10 day deadline, within budget and to the full satisfaction of the client.

Works to this bridge comprised of Helifix Pinning Ties to reconnect the arch stones together with bed joint reinforcement to reinstate the structural integrity of the masonry. Vegetation was removed from the wing walls and continuity of the masonry was achieved by further pinning techniques. The installation was made good ensuring an excellent colour match was obtained and the repair hidden.
